Letter From The Editor

It's simply astonishing that we are moving towards the final year of Barack Obama's first presidential term. The oath taken by Barack Obama in Washington, January 2009, to become the 44th US president has now become a distant memory, simply because of the magnitude of global issues that have faced him and the international community over the last 24 months.

Over the last several years we have witnessed unprecedented major International Events such as the G20 Summit in London to address the incredible collapse of some of the worlds leading finance houses as well as the Copenhagen Meeting that ended in so called failure. Additionally we have also witnessed an incredible attempt by the Roman Catholic Church to build bridges with the Anglican Church by extending an olive branch to dissatisfied clergy.

We have also seen the creation of a new post in Europe for a President of Europe, a simply unbelievable event which we believe has prophetic significance for the coming emergence of the Antichrist. We have seen the continual development of the 10 bioregions as defined by the Club of Rome in their 1973 blueprint and we have all been made aware of the significant and controversial idea that global warming is responsible for some of the bizarre weather patterns now being experienced in different parts of the earth. Added to that is the very serious and growing threat posed by Iran and its nuclear weapons program as well as the continuing threat of terrorism.

We thank you for supporting our ministry as we continue to provide these special reports that will hopefully provide some value in understanding the events that are facing us today.

THE KENNEDY FACTOR

Barack Obama is not the Antichrist. It is important that we continue to drum this through. When the Antichrist Identity Report Series was released, there were numerous complaints sent to us accusing us of spreading propaganda by claiming that he was the Antichrist.

If people had taken the time to actually read what we were saying and not jump to conclusions they would have understood that the focus was not on trying to prove that Obama was the Antichrist, but rather the US president was implementing stealth policy changes designed to subvert the America under a Socialist dictatorial regime which would harmonize with the world government agenda.

This agenda is an Antichrist agenda because it is led by groups who have little regard for Jesus Christ and whom wish to have their own leader at the helm of controlling the entire planet.

The question remains as to whether Barack Obama is aware of the world government agenda. Many of us will be aware that John F Kennedy was assassinated because he began to resist the direction that the global elite wanted him to follow. On June 4, 1963, a virtually unknown Presidential decree, Executive Order 11110, was signed with the authority to basically strip the Federal Reserve Bank of its power to loan money to the United States Federal Government at interest. With the stroke of a pen, President Kennedy declared that the privately owned Federal Reserve Bank would soon be out of business.

President Kennedy was then assassinated on November 22, 1963 and the United States Notes he had issued were immediately taken out of circulation. Federal Reserve Notes continue to serve as the legal currency of the nation. According to the United States Secret Service, 99% of all U.S. paper "currency" circulating in 1999 are Federal Reserve Notes. Since the time of Kennedy no other American President has possessed the will to stand up to the agenda of the "Shadow Government", those behind the scenes who are significant decision makers within the Illuminati network who control the destiny of nations including the United States of America.

Is Barack Obama aware of the Illuminati and the ultimate objective to enslave mankind under a global dictatorship where all people will be required to register under a global security and payment system which the Bible calls the "Mark of the Beast".

Some believe that as an American President Obama simply follows orders that are given to him without fully realising the implications of those decisions. Others believe he would never be aware of the bigger picture until he was sworn in as American President and then his eyes opened up to the real truth about the New World Order. Still others believe that Obama was chosen because he already knows and agrees with the plan to unite the world under a global government and system of control.

In this article we put forth our opinion on Obama's New World Order and whether Obama is aware or ignorant to the ultimate aim of the global elite who control the world economy.

OBAMA IGNORANT TO THE END GOAL

We believe that President Obama has been brought into to do a job without possibly a complete and full realisation that all the decisions he is making are actually contributing to the subversion of the United States to a dictatorial global government. This school of thought is based on a full understanding of the Pyramid of Power that is observed on the American Dollar Bill, a Masonic symbol of the global agenda for the establishment of a "New Secular Order".

The American dollar bill is probably the world's best known banknote, but how many people appreciate why the Great Seal of the United

"... A LIGHT WILL SHINE THROUGH THAT WINDOW, A BEAM OF LIGHT WILL COME DOWN UPON YOU, YOU WILL EXPERIENCE AN EPIPHANY ... AND YOU WILL SUDDENLY REALIZE THAT YOU MUST GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE FOR OBAMA" - BARACK OBAMA LEBANON, NEW HAMPSHIRE.
 JANUARY 7, 2008.

States of America is printed on it, or understand what these ancient symbols mean? The symbols of the Great Seal, which are featured on the dollar bill, are clearly intended to embody the beliefs of those who founded the United States of America.

The current design of the Great Seal was approved by Congress on 20 June 1782, and the seal was introduced to the dollar bill in 1935. The continued official use of Masonic symbols today indicates that these beliefs remain at the heart of the U.S. establishment.

What were the beliefs of the founders of America? Numerous sources outside of Freemasonry report that the vast majority of the American founders and signatories of the U.S. Constitution were Freemasons. Anti-Mason material routinely claims that almost all of America's founding fathers were members of a Masonic Order.

Official sources within Freemasonry counter-claim that some but not all of America's founders were Freemasons, and point out that the Masonic status of many of the alleged Masonic founding fathers cannot be proven conclusively. The aforementioned school of thought is corroborated by well-documented reports from some authoritative Masonic sources; thus, Manly Palmer Hall, a thirty-third degree Mason, wrote:

"Of the fifty-five members of the Constitutional Convention, all but five were Masons."

To provide some context to how Barack Obama would fit into the agenda of the New World Order one needs to focus specifically on the all seeing eye which is located at the top of the pyramid.

The All-Seeing Eye has been an important symbol within freemasonry and rosicrucian traditions for hundreds of years. So it is not surprising to find pride among occultists who understand the significance of this emblem:

"Our beautiful seal is an expression of Freemasonry, an expression of occult ideas." (Wyckoff, H. S. The Great American Seal. The Mystic Light, the Rosicrucian Magazine, p.56)

The first attempts at including the All-Seeing Eye on the seal were not successful. The first die of the Great Seal was cut from brass in 1782. In 1825, 1841, 1877, 1885, and 1902, new dies were cut, but each time the reverse went uncut and unused. . . the Illuminati's plan for the New World Order had not been advanced far enough, yet, to be announced.

The New World Order is an expression that has been used by illumined Freemasonry since the days of Adam Weishaupt (its founder) to signify the coming world government.

"It is necessary to establish a universal regime over the whole world", Weishaupt had said. (Writings of the Illuminati, 1780)

One of the most distinguishing features of the symbolism is that there is a gap between the all seeing eye and the body of the pyramid. It is within this symbolic visual that the answer lies regarding the nature of the global elite.

The all seeing eye is representative of the illuminated elite directly involved in black magic and power rituals as is visually demonstrated on the next page.

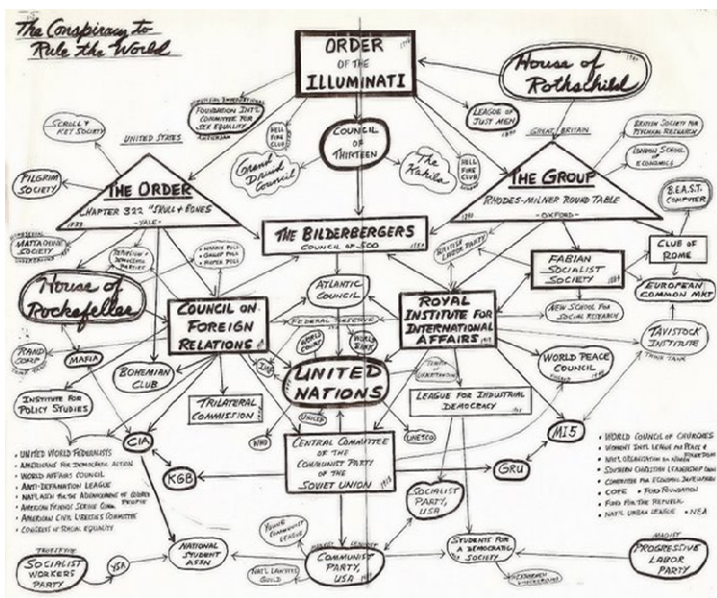

Illuminati

The Freemasonic Brotherhood/Intelligence Agencies Compartmentalised Power Structure

The Freemasonic secret-society network is intrinsically interwoven into all levels of society's structure — banking, business, police, military, politics, legal system, education, mass media, religion, medical and pharmaceutical industry, illegal drug running and distribution, organised crime and last but not least, the major "think tanks" and manipulators of the masses — the intelligence agencies

The Pyramid structure is based on the concept that there are many different groups, societies and initiatives as seen below, who are all contributing to the global emergence of the New World Order. These groups are defined as "the workers". However the elaborate and deceptive connection between all of these groups is that their goals, ideals and objectives are directly or indirectly contributing to the eventual objective of the Order of the Illuminati who are also known as the "Black Nobility or the Illuminated Elite". It is this group that controls the world banking and political system and has a significant influence over the ecology and environmental movement and it is this group which sits at the top of the pyramid as a representation of the all seeing eye through their ritualistic allegiance to whom the Bible called the "Prince of this World" otherwise known as Lucifer.

The noticeable gap between the Illuminated Elite and "The Workers" is a relationship which is a hallmark of freemasonry with the fact that there are different degrees or levels, for instance a first degree mason is known as an Entered Apprentice until such time as he is "Passed" into the Second Degree when he becomes a Fellow Craft. Ultimately it is only those at the very highest degree (33rd) of freemasonry who have full access to the full occultic understanding of the Masonic agenda.

Could it be possible that Barack Obama as a worker was chosen to further the reality of a New World Order because in essence his political ideology is one that would manifest itself and which is manifesting itself through his financial reforming of the American banking system, the American health care system and Homeland Security.

Is it possible that whilst he attends Bilderberger meetings and has surrounded himself with significant influential members of the Council on Foreign Relations and Trilateral Commission (world government groups) that his disconnect from the real power brokers at the top of the pyramid means he does not fully understand the implications of why he was brought into office and why he is making the political and economic decisions that he is making.

Is it possible that whilst trying to further his aims with an honest and contrite motive, his aims are actually contributing to the wider evil design of those above him.

One would have thought that Obama as a professing Christian would be aware of Bible Prophecy in some shape or form considering that before becoming president he and his family had for many years attended Reverend Jeremiah Wright's, Trinity United Church of Christ (TUCC), a mega church in Chicago with around 8,500 members.

However the paradox is that whilst the Bible is filled with significant detail regarding the end times and a specific time table of events to occur, many of today's mega churches hardly focus on biblical eschatology or the study of things to come. Whilst there is a general understanding on general events to occur such as Jesus Christ returning to earth, a period called the Tribulation, and a coming Millennium, many churches and congregational members have no exposure to the New World Order danger and as such are vulnerable.

For instance how many times have you personally heard Joel Osteen, Joyce Meyers, TD Jakes, Billy Graham, Creflo Dollar and some of the world largest Christian ministries educate their TV audience about the coming deception of the last days. There is significant focus on being a better Christian from a spiritual and practical perspective but very little attention to understanding the world we live in and the covert plans of the global elite.

The choice of Barack Obama to spearhead the progression of world government has not only been to appeal to a wider audience base in the United States but it is also because of his appeal on a global level. For instance his very being and multi cultural and multi faith heritage is such a powerful weapon that its even caused significant confusion within the Muslim world which is normally very unilateral in their view on individuals associated with Western Zionism or the "Great Satan" as they refer to the United States.

One of the most fascinating aspects of Obama's presidency is studying the dynamic with the Muslim nations brought about by Obama's change of policy from that of former president, George Bush Jr. The Middle East and Africa at large have been untrusting and hostile to past US administrations yet now there is an element of possible change with Obama now in the office.

Obviously, many will allude to the obvious such as his first name "Barack", and his past connection to a non practicing Muslim father and schooling in a Muslim school in Indonesia but it is apparent that the election of Obama has caused confusion and a been the source of a major debate within the Muslim world.

On one hand there are those like the president of Iran, Mahmoud Ahmadinejad who views Obama as an apostate who is simply a different man in new suit but with the same agenda as George Bush Jr whereas there were others such as former Libyan Leader Colonel Gaddafi who had nothing but plaudits for Obama. During a United Nations conference in New York in August 2009, Obama was rushed away from the auditorium after making his speech because of the fear that Gadaffi who was present would attempt to try and embrace Obama which from a publicity perspective would have serious implications for the US administration.

The Muslim world has always been a problem for the global elite because of the fact that the Muslim World associate the agenda of the global elite as political Zionism because of the elites need to control Israel and Jerusalem. However this should be no surprise considering that the Illuminati agenda is one which has no place for Islam.

However with the Middle East being the nerve centre of the world and the frightening reality that a sudden war in the Middle East before its appointed time could seriously and negatively impact the agenda of the global elite as they build their infrastructure for world government, the choice of Obama has been a cleverly disguised ploy to bring confusion within the Muslim world and to give the global elite a footprint of political influence in the region through the likes of Egypt, Jordan and Saudi Arabia who have seemingly been welcoming of Obama much more than the previous US administration.

Control of Muslim states of North Africa and the Middle East for the time being is paramount to a successful rollout of the global world government because the oil rich nations of the Middle East have the potential to wreck the world economy through oil embargoes or creating alliances that pose a threat to the Illuminati.

In a previous report we made mention of how on Tuesday 6th October 2009 a report was published in "The Guardian" regarding the fact that the Arab States, Russia, France and China had launched secret moves to stop using US currency for oil trading.

"In the most profound financial change in recent Middle East history, Gulf Arabs are planning along with China, Russia, Japan and France to end dollar dealings for oil, moving instead to a basket of currencies including the Japanese Yen, Chinese Yuan, the euro, gold and a new, unified currency planned for nations in the Gulf Co-operation Council including Saudi Arabia, Abu Dhabi, Kuwait and Qatar."

Obama has thus been brought in for a specific reason and the jury is out on whether he is fully aware of where his new world order agenda is leading or whether at some point, the penny will drop and like Kennedy he will attempt to resist and put the breaks on the wheels of the global elite world government train.

This is why we need to continually pray for our president because the legacy of John F Kennedy's brave resistance to the power structures who attempted to control him is one that provides even greater strength to those who seek to repel and resistance global tyranny today.

Whilst we know that world government will eventually come because it is clearly prophesied to be a final chapter in this episode of human history, resistance gives rise to curiosity and knowledge which will help to educate the masses of the need to seek salvation because world government will eventually give way for the establishment of God's true government on earth through Jesus Christ for which we need to be ready as only those who are worthy will be able to enter.

An ongoing further affirmation of our thoughts and conclusions are also addressed in an interview with David Icke which you can see later in this report.

WORLD WAR III: PREDLUUE TO A WORLD ORDER

Having consolidated their financial grip on most of the European nations by the middle of the 1900s, the international bankers under the control of the Illuminati worked feverishly to extend their sphere of influence to the ends of the earth in preparation for their final assault on the United States - a nation which, through its unique Constitution, remained free. In the decades that followed it became apparent that, in order to achieve their goal of world domination, they would have to instigate a series of world wars which would result in levelling of the old world in preparation for the construction of the New World Order.

The plot for a series of world wars in the twentieth century which would culminate in triggering a third world war, which would pull in the Islamic world, was devised in the nineteenth century by Albert Pike. Albert Pike, Sovereign Grand Commander of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry and the top Illuminist in America sent a letter to Guiseppe Mazzini (who at the time headed the international expansion of the Illuminati agenda) dated August 15, 1871.

The letter he wrote based on his divination experiences graphically outlined plans for three world wars that were seen as necessary to bring about the One World Order, and we can marvel at how accurately it has predicted events that have already taken place. This is not because the devil has powers of prophecy, but because his agents have undertaken to manipulate political events to closely follow his designs.

Pike stated that the first world war was to be fomented in order to destroy Czarist Russia- and to place that vast land under the direct control of Illuminati agents. Russia was then to be used as a 'bogey man' to further the aims of the Illuminati worldwide.

World War II was to be fomented through manipulation of the differences that existed between the German Nationalists and the Political Zionists. This was to result in an expansion of Russian influence and the establishment of a state of Israel in Palestine.

Two of the first wars have already taken place but there is a third world war which is yet to happen. Notice again Pikes reference to this third world war in

This letter graphically outlined plans for three world wars that were seen as necessary to bring about the One World Order, and we can marvel at how accurately it has predicted events that have already taken place.

This is not because the devil has powers of prophecy, but because his agents have undertaken to manipulate political events to closely follow his designs. For a short time, this letter was on display in the British Museum Library in London, and it was copied by William Guy Carr, former Intelligence Officer in the Royal .

The Third World War must be fomented by taking advantage of the differences caused by the "agentur" of the "Illuminati" between the political Zionists and the leaders of Islamic World. The war must be conducted in such a way that Islam (the Moslem Arabic World) and political Zionism (the State of Israel) mutually destroy each other. Meanwhile the other nations, once more divided on this issue will be constrained to fight to the point of complete physical, moral, spiritual and economical exhaustion...We shall unleash the Nihilists and the atheists, and we shall provoke a formidable social cataclysm which in all its horror will show clearly to the nations the effect of absolute atheism, origin of savagery and of the most bloody turmoil. Then everywhere, the citizens, obliged to defend themselves against the world minority of revolutionaries, will exterminate those destroyers of civilization, and the multitude, disillusioned with Christianity, whose deistic spirits will from that moment be without compass or direction, anxious for an ideal, but without knowing where to render its adoration, will receive the true light through the universal manifestation of the pure doctrine of Lucifer, brought finally out in the public view. This manifestation will result from the general reactionary movement which will follow the destruction of Christianity and atheism, both conquered and exterminated at the same time."

It is thus clear to see that the scheduling of the global elitist agenda is one in which Islam is a means to their end, not that Islam is their end. Despite the recent political surface level attempts to build bridges with the Islamic World, ultimately this is only to further extend and consolidate the Illuminati aims in the Middle East.

Noted author, Henry Makow also acknowledges that dynamics between the Illuminati and Islam, he states,

"Likewise, the Illuminati claim that the Second World War pitted the Fascists against the "political Zionists" so as to build up International Communism until it equalled in strength that of the United Christendom. According to Illuminati plans, the Third World War, which is to be fought between the political Zionists and the leaders of the Moslem world, will drain the international community.....The purpose of the creation of Israel and the invasion of Iraq is to colonize the Muslim world and eradicate Islam. Islam is the biggest stumbling block to the Luciferian world religion, secular humanism."

This is why Islam so vehemently despises freemasonry. The College of Islamic Jurisprudence, in its session convened at Makkah on 15th July 1978, examined the issue of Freemasonry, of those affiliated with it and the legal Islamic judgment on it, after adequate study of this dangerous organisation, inclusive of the College's own published documents, books, and newspaper and journal articles. Its resulting decision was that it considered Freemasonry one of the most dangerously destructive organisations to Islam and to Muslims. In 1978 the College issued a fatwa clearly defining the official stance of Islam on Freemasonry.

Before embarking on its plan for World War III, the Illuminati would first have to end the Cold War, by subduing the Soviet Union, to render America the remaining Western superpower to be pitted against the Muslim World. Therefore, in a Time magazine cover story, published on Jan. 15, 1979, Brzezinski proclaimed Iran, Afghanistan, and the Indian subcontinent as an "arc of crisis" that posed a grave challenge to the West, though one that could also spell doom for the Soviet empire.

Essentially, in the Illuminati agenda, the Arc of Crisis was used as a pretext to ignite a band of Islamic fundamentalism across Central Asia, that could be first be used to bankrupt and destroy the Soviet Union, and then to recruit and engage a wave of Islamic fundamentalists to later be used as the spectre of terrorism with which to frighten the Western world. This strategy was revealed in the 1998 interview which Brzezinski, present foreign security advisor for the present US administration.

A woman by the name Svali, who was raised in the Illuminati cult, began writing a monthly column for survivors of Illuminati ritual abuse at Suite101.com. In December 2000, H.J. Springer, the editor of CentrExNews.com contacted Svali and conducted an extended 18-part interview with her by email. Svali made a number of critical comments.

"...there are some very powerful Jewish people in this group. For instance, the Rothschild family literally runs the financial empire in Europe (and indirectly the States), and are a well-known Jewish family. I have also known people whose parents were Jewish diamond merchants in the group, and at every level. But to rise to power in the Illuminati, a Jewish person at night would be forced to renounce their faith, and to give their first allegiance to Lucifer and the beliefs of the Illuminati."

"...these leaders are heads in the financial world, OLD banking money. The Rothschild family in England, and in France, have ruling seats. A descendant of the Hapsburg dynasty has a generational seat. Descendants of the ruling families of England and France have a generational seat. The Rockefeller family in the US holds a seat.... The financiers, dating back to the bankers during the times of the Templar Knights who financed the early kings in Europe, created the Illuminati."

"Most [Jews] would oppose this Illuminati scheme if they understood it. No wonder they think anti-Semitism is irrational and feel resentment. They don't appreciate that many Jewish leaders secretly play a dominant role in the Illuminati plan."

In the final issue of the "History of the Illuminati," next month, we will seek to explore what the intentions of the Illuminati will be during the aftermath of World War III and why Israel is such an integral aspect of their strategy for total global world domination with the power of Islam broken in the Middle Eastern region.

Interview With David Icke

David Icke Profile

David Icke was a man leading an enviable life: by the age of 20 he was a professional goalie for a British football team; by 30 he was a national television sports anchor on BBC; a husband; and a father leading the life he had dreamed of.

But something began taking him in an altogether different direction after reaching his worldly goals. As one life-altering revelation after another dropped him on a path he would have never imagined.

Since then he has become a world respected authority on dissecting the components that contributing towards the emergence of a one world government. Icke has authored a number of publications of which the most popular are Children of the Matrix and the David Icke Guide to the Global Conspiracy. Whilst ongoingly ridiculed by the British mainstream media Icke is a popular author and presenter on a global level.

Interview Section Focus: “The Economic Agenda”

(RM is the Interviewer and DI is David Icke)

RM: I think a lot of people were surprised but many people put a smile on their face when you decided to run for Parliament a few months ago and I haven't spoken to you since then, so I don't know what kind of realities and validation of everything you have been working on the last 18 years or so, you rubbed up against in the whole process.

DI: It was a bizarre thing, really, because I must be the only political candidate—not that I was a political candidate—who has put out a . . . What happens in Britain is when you stand for Parliament you get a free mail-out to every home in the constituency, the area of the election. I must be the only candidate who has ever sent out a leaflet saying I don't want your vote.

RM: Right! I loved it. (laughing)

DI: It said I don't want your vote; I just want your brief attention. The reason I did it, and I learned a lot from it about other more subtle levels of manipulation. What happened—for people who don't come from Britain—an opposition conservative Home Affairs Spokesman, called David Davis, resigned his Parliamentary seat in what he said was protest of the emerging Big Brother State.

RM: Can you tell us a little bit about what he said to the media because that was really quite interesting?

DI: Well, he was protesting, he said, over the government's decision and real pressure on its own members of Parliament to change the law so that you could go 42 days without charge and still be held in prison. He said he wanted to make a stand against Big Brother. I watched this with interest, and like everything, I always step one step back because there is always more to know no matter what it is. And the Labor Party, the Labor Government didn't stand against him: It's just a farce! It's just ridiculous; we're not taking part in a farce! Brackets, decoded, translated: We know we'd get slaughtered so we're not standing and we've got a good excuse not to stand. The Liberal Democrat Party said they weren't standing because they agreed with him. He kept saying I want to debate on Big Brother.

So, fine; I'm looking at this one night when he resigned and it was clear that eventually no one was going to stand against him except fringe candidates of various kinds. There are a lot of them. Then a friend of mind contacted me and he said hey, what do you think about standing against Davis and giving him a debate? I said OK I'll do it; let's do it. And, in a ridiculously short time, from standing to end it was about two and a half weeks; I dropped everything, went five hours up north in England and stood in this election. What I found immediately is that David Davis didn't want a debate at all. I was banned from events that he was at; I turned up as a member of the public to hear a “debate” involving David Davis and Bob Geldof. I had a ticket waiting for me and I was turned away at the door! I was turned away by the authorities so I couldn't listen to a debate challenging Big Brother. I mean you couldn't make it up, right. So, all this was going on.

DI: They never really explained it. Basically it was he's not coming in. We don't have to explain why. We'll just tell the media—as they did—he didn't have a ticket. Well, I did!

Interview With David Icke

RM: So not only were you not allowed to debate; you were not even allowed to watch the debate.

DI: That's right. They were frightened that I was going to stand up and ask questions.

RM: Sure.

DI: But what happened was that people who supported me in they area, they got together—quite a vociferous group got together very quickly—they started going to these events and, of course, for a while the people running them, Davis's people didn't realize didn't realize who they were and why they were there and they got up and asked some questions they didn't want to hear, and then they got banned. (laughing together)

So, the Big Brother Challenge Election was going very rapidly awry, and then what started to happen—this is where I started to really see some of the subtleties of how this work, though it wasn't really subtle, some of it—people started arriving to support David Davis and his anti-Big-Brother stand who were from an organization called the Henry Jackson Society, which was started in 2005, in Britain. And, staggeringly, a British political Think Tank organization was named after an American Senator, Henry "Scoop" Jackson. Why? What's going on?

Well, people look at the Neocon (neoconservative) network that put Bush in power and has been running that regime ever since, the William Crystal's, the Robert Kagan's, the Richard Pearl's, all these people, and they think because they are now involved in they Republican Party they must have come from the Republican party and that's the way it was. No, no. Those people started as supporters and sometimes close aides to Henry "Scoop" Jackson in the Democratic Party.

Then when Reagan and Bush came along they jumped ship. Then you look at these people who were coming up from this organization, a Neocon organization, a Neocon front in Britain and they are supporting David Davis against Big Brother when that is exactly the opposite of what they want. They want Big Brother. And then you look at the international patrons of the Henry Jackson Society, Richard Pearl, William Crystal, Robert Kagan, and all these guys behind Bush are international patrons of this organization.

And then another lady started coming up in the media and she came up and did a public meeting at this election supporting David Davis and his stand against Big Brother. Her name is Shami Chakrabarti, who is the head of Liberty, which is our version of, you know, the Civil Liberties Union in America.

And she is a former Government Barrister in the home office of the government. And she became head of Liberty. It turns out she is also a governor of something called the Ditchley Foundation, which connects into the Bilderberg Group, the Tri-lateral Commission Council on Foreign Relations network. She is also involved in something called the British American Project, which is which is another kind of organization in that Think Tank web, which manipulates behind the scenes.

Whenever there is a Big Brother story in Britain they go to Shami Chakrabarti for a comment. What it was clear was happening was that you have those who were pressing the agenda for this Orwellian state, and then you have those often people who are not aware of how they are being manipulated themselves who are opposing that agenda, but they are opposing it on a level that the agenda is never in trouble.

RM: Right

DI: For instance, when a friend of mind tried to explain to Shami Chakrabarti that 9/11 was an inside job and the official story was nonsense, in his words, her eyes glazed over. She just didn't want to know and couldn't go there. So, what you have is an expression of the establishment opposing, in theory, though not in a way that is going to have any effect, another part of the establishment.

RM: Would you say that this is agreed upon from the inside to create a perception of freedom for the individuals, a perception of choice?

DI: Well, I think sometimes it is, and sometimes—and, I think this is the case probably with Shami Chakrabarti—is they take someone of a certain viewpoint, a certain range that she will accept as possible, i.e. she will never go into this conspiracy stuff . . .

RM: Right. So hand picking the person is very important.

DI: They put the right person in the right job.

RM: And that would be a person with a very predictable response.

DI: Yeah. It is interesting that on the Ditchley Foundation site they do a promo video and they have a clip of Shami Chakrabarti in which she says my world view has been changed by being involved with this organization. See, there are those who know, who are in full awareness of what they are doing; they are the minority. You can't have too many of them or eventually the whole thing will leak out. Then there are those who are brought into the fold and they are then—it is a form of programming.

Interview With David Icke

DI: It is opinion manipulation, viewer manipulation, which brings them into the fold, and they think they are opposing something but they are not really. It was interesting when I looked at the head of the Civil Liberties Union in America, a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, the previous one [also] a member of the Council on Foreign Relations. Now, you've got the Council on Foreign Relations as part of this web of the Bilderberg Group and all the rest of it. They have been working for decades and decades—in terms of the Council on Foreign relations it's back to about 1920-21—to bring in the Big Brother State and to manipulate events to justify it, and one of their members is the head of what is the most famous Civil Liberties organization in America.

RM: Right. So, this is a foe watchdog group. But it is a very good point that you bring up in that people aren't necessarily complicit in conspiracy in these situations; it is just that those who are very skilled at placing a very predictable individual in key positions, so you are not going to have to worry about what the ultimate behavior or reaction is going to be to anything.

DI: I'll give you one example, Margaret Thatcher. Margaret Thatcher was not a knowing manipulator but she had a real fierce, rigid view of the world and economics and economic policy. So, they bring her in in Britain in 1979. And, she introduced a form of economics—a vicious, merciless form of economics—called Thatcherism.

RM: Right.

DI: One year later, in 1980, they bring in the cowboy, who brought in at least in theory—he didn't, but he was the front man for it—something called Reaganomics, which was a mirror of Thatcherism. And these two came in together . . .

RM: Coincidence. (laughing)

DI: Oh yeah, nothing to worry about. Reagan would have been more knowing, but Margaret Thatcher, she was the Iron Lady, the person who was in complete control and she was totally manipulated without realizing it. So, you know, they don't want too many people in the full knowledge of what is going on.

RM: So, for the sake of maybe a little bit of repetition from a lot of your past work, let's talk about say a handful of the top manipulators and then give us maybe a portrait of maybe a handful of people who think they are in control but are not, and are actually being manipulated. Because a lot of times we confuse the two—the public at large, who are into the Conspiracy Theory, will confuse the two. I mean, if that is a fair thing to say.

DI: Well, the people who are really, full in total knowledge of what is going on, you hardly see them. I mean you can see them, now and again, in the form of people like the Rothschild's, people like that. But they are what I call the shadow people; they operate completely in the background.

RM: Within the next layer.

DI: Everyone in the pyramid or interconnected pyramids below those shadow people in full knowledge, they are all expendable, all of them. So, you have the here-today-gone-tomorrow politicians who come in; they are apparently in power for a certain time and then they leave. Then someone else comes in and they are in power for a certain time and then they leave. What doesn't change is the unfolding agenda. Why? Because there is one force that doesn't come and go. That's the one I'm talking about.

RM: Right.

DI: People are now starting to—for a long time they have instinctively felt it—but now it is becoming more conscious. It doesn't matter who you vote for because nothing ever changes.

RM: Right.

DI: Why? It doesn't matter who you vote for because the same force stays in power. So, when you get to people like father George Bush, he will be much more in the know; people like Kissinger will be very much more in the know than the general run of politicians like Gordon Brown, the here-today very gone tomorrow Prime Minister of Britain, currently. Tony Blair will be more in the know, but not enough to know the full big picture of what is behind it. It is a pyramid of manipulation that mirrors secret societies like the Freemasons. There was a guy called Jim Shaw who wrote a book some years ago, now. He was a rabid Freemason who went up the 33 degrees of the Scottish right. And, by the time he got to the top he still thought the Free Masons were about certain things, philanthropic things.

RM: Community endeavors.

DI: Yeah. He realized that it was good for business and it was good for your career, but he didn't see anything really malevolent about it. But what he did see as he went up is as he went up the degrees what he was told at the lower levels was changed constantly. Oh no. That's what you learned there; this is the real story. But, no. no. This is the real story. No. This is the real story . . .

to the point where he was at that supreme headquarters of the 33rd degree in Washington, D.C., just down from the White House, where they have the two symbolic sphinxes outside and the big rising sun and the pillars. It is like some kind of Greek/Egyptian temple. And he went there to be initiated into the 33 degree, and he said there were—he never named them—but he said there were former presidents there; there were famous television evangelists there, and all these people. Then he said at the end of it a friend of his, who was also initiated into the 33rd degree, said to him they have said I'm going higher. And, of course, he's going what do you mean higher?

There are only 33 degrees. Well, he realized, suddenly, there weren't [only 33 degrees]. And he said my friend left through a different door of this temple than I did. So, he started to then question the whole thing and started then trying to expose the fact that Freemasonry, as he learned more, was not what he thought it was, and he got to the 33 degree! Now, if you transfer that structure to mainstream society and politics and business and banking, you've got exactly the same situation.

RM: They leave through a different door.

DI: Yeah, and we have the secret societies and they feed out of the top—of their official top maximum—into another pyramid, which I call the Illuminati Pyramid, and that is his fiercely hierarchal and compartmentalized, as well, and that is where the action is. I mean these [gesturing lower in pyramid] are used to manipulate society and put people in different levels of jobs and power, but this [the top] is where the action is, and these are the shadow people. And then you've got the political pyramids, so down here somewhere you'll meet the Prime Ministers, the Presidents and the Secretaries of State. In the military one you've got the Secretary of NATO, and all these things.

Some of them will be from the bloodline families and if they are they will be much more in the know of the bigger picture because they might be representatives from this pyramid [pointing to one side] actually in these positions of power. But most of them will be in different levels of bewilderment and be unaware of the big picture that they are part of. Because for the few to control the many very, very few people have to understand what the game is because then you can get elements of the many to enslave the many without realizing that is what they are doing. They appeal to things like to get people to do what they want they appeal to their desire for power—or apparent power—they look at their desire for money and prestige and position. If they can't get them that way they will look at their sexual persuasions and what have you and make sure that they are catered for and it is filmed and all the rest of it.

And so hey, you know that policy that you don't want to push through—have a look at that [trap] and then give me a call. All these things are done, depending on the personality, to control those people in the apparent positions of power, when the real power is here [levels above], and that is what you never see.

RM: Looking at the bigger game, you already mentioned the Rothschild's, and we are looking at a game where certainly the U. S. and British economies are coming unravelled. Europe is having troubles, even the Far East. Let's say the world economies are becoming unravelled. Is unravelled even the right thing to say, or is this very much by design?

DI: Totally by design.

RM: There is road-kill and there are the vultures circling. We already know the taxpayers are the road-kill. Who else is the road-kill in this, and who is circling? Who is gleeful?

DI: What I present in my talks are what I call coordinates. The world seems extremely complex and bewildering and chaotic and what's going on? But when you've got the coordinates, then suddenly ah ha, yes! See where it goes. Those coordinates, the basic ones anyway, are where is the world being taken? And what are the techniques being used to take us there? Once you have got those two a lot of this chaos and confusion starts to fade and clarity starts to emerge. Take the first coordinate: Where do they want to take us? They want a centralized global state with a world government, world central bank, world currency—electronic—no currencies in terms of cash—just one electronic world currency, a world army to impose the will of the world government, and a microchip population.

That is where they want to take us. Now, the techniques used to take us there are what I call Problem-Reaction-Solution: Create the problem; offer the solution. Without the problem, the solution would get a lot of opposition and could not have the justification of being introduced. But now, because of the problem, OK, we don't like it but we've got to solve the problem so we'll accept it. And the other way is what I call the Totalitarian Tip-Toe, where they go where they long plan to go right from the start, but they do it in steps not so big that people will notice vast change—that's changing now; we're moving faster—enough to keep the people in check in terms of their opposition, and looking up from the game show and saying what's going on?

RM: Roll it out slowly.

Interview With David Icke

DI: Yeah, but as quick as you can and as big as you can, but not so big that you create a big reaction. So, when you put all these things together we are seeing in all these different areas of this structure that they've run that I have just described are problems being created, engineered to bring about the solutions, which is the steppingstone move towards this structure. If you take the financial situation now, people think that a stock market crash is a bad thing for everybody in finance. No it is not. If you know it is coming because you are going to cause it, you get out of the market at the highest point and then you crash it and you get back in the market at the lowest point. You have vastly increased your wealth and you have vastly increased your control. This has been going on all the time. So, in the 1929 Crash and the Great Depression that followed was a manipulated crash. If you look at the number of banks that there were before the crash and the number of banks afterwards, it was just dramatically fewer afterwards than it was before because the big boys have now taken that market and taken that control. Of course, as this moves on you move from a stage of big fish eating small fish, to big fish eating medium fish. Now we're having big fish consumed by mega fish, if you like—really big investment houses and banks being taken over by mega banks.

RM: I just read one comment in a report today and it was a comment where the financial analyst was saying that Goldman Sachs are going to "have"—they call it have the regional banks for lunch, now.

DI: Goldman Sachs is going to have the regional banks for lunch; that is quite right. But let's look at Goldman Sachs.

RM: I mean I was just using that as an example.

DI: Yeah. But let's look at that because it is very relevant to what is going on. What you have in this network, this web of control, or these pyramids of control, however you want to symbolize it, where the same force controls into all these at our level of society, if you like in daily experience, unconnected organizations and institutions, but if you go high enough up the pyramids you eventually meet the same people; they are all controlling the same thing. One expression of this is the revolving door, which you see all over the world but you really see it in America, between the so-called private sector and government. And this revolving door has these people moving around all the time. For instance, you look at the Bush administration's use of Monsanto executives and employees in government and you find Monsanto—and, of course, GM Foods and all this other stuff—you see their representatives moving from Monsanto, getting government jobs in agencies that are then supposed to police Monsanto.

RM: Right.

DI: This is how the revolving door works. So, Goldman Sachs was heavily, heavily involved in the whole so-called Subprime Mortgage situation that officially triggered this economic crisis. There is a man who has worked for the Defense Department; he has worked for the White House and then he moved into banking with Goldman Sachs. He became Chairman and Chief Executive of Goldman Sachs. In 2006 he left Goldman Sachs and became U. S. Treasury Secretary, a man called Henry Paulson. The same Henry Paulson who, because there was this massive problem with the banking system because of all this debt—all the toxic debt and the credit crunch—hey, Henry, what's your answer to it? Well, glad you asked; I've been thinking about it. I'll tell you what it is, it's let's give 700 billion to a trillion dollars of debt taken on by the government, i.e., generation after generation of the population, and let's give it to the banks, which I work for. And when I finish with this job, quite shortly probably, I'm going to go back there, and let's do that. And, it is just so utterly blatant now! This is what is happening. For instance, we had the biggest British mortgage bank providing mortgages for people in Britain called The Halifax. First of all it was The Halifax Building Society, just an organization like many building societies. Then the building societies became banks. They were doing fine as building societies, but no. Banks! That completely changes the dynamics along which they work. Halifax is then taken over by the Bank of Scotland. So now we have a fusion of Halifax and the Bank of Scotland. Then we have this big bank in Britain called Lloyd's, and it absorbed another bank called the TSB; it used to be called the Trustee Savings Bank. At this point British monopoly laws would prevent this going any further. Ah! But not when you've got a big credit problem and a banking crisis. Because what happened just 10 day to two weeks ago now, at the time we are doing this interview, we had the monopoly laws dropped and cast aside to allow Halifax / Bank of Scotland, which had got into financial trouble during this situation, to be absorbed by Lloyd's / TSB. Two absorbed entities are no absorbed together, and that new mega bank currently has 41% of UK current accounts. This is where we are getting to now in this big fish eats little fish, eats big fish . . . kind of situation.

RM: Bank of America / Merrill Lynch.

DI: Yeah, but the point I would make is that if you control the game, then no matter what happens in the game you can't lose. So, you might have a face called Merrill Lynch and you might have a face called Bank of America, but if Bank of America absorbs Merrill Lynch you still own the same thing except that your power has now moved because you've concentrated the power into fewer hands than were there before. But the controllers of the game, they don't loose because they control the rules of the game. And, they keep changing the rules of the game. I mean the rules of the financial game have been dramatically changed in the last few weeks caused by this so-called sub-prime crisis, which was actually totally manipulated.

And going back to what we talked about earlier with this pyramid and it coming down the pyramid to different levels until you reach people who are playing it out without knowledge of what they are playing out—what it has been promoted as, this crisis, is the result of banking greed. And there are people who are attacking banks because they have bet on the share price falling, so they attack the bank to make the share price fall. Then they win their bet and they win millions of pounds. But, that is the greed of those people being manipulated by those who are coldly calculating from the top of the pyramid to play out and cause the crisis; they are pawns in the game. Yes there is an appeal to their greed and all that stuff and their lack of empathy with the people who suffer the consequences of their actions, but they are being used. And it is at that point that the media pick it up. Oh, it's just greed! No. No. It is greed there that is pointed out, but what has created it and used that greed to play it out is here [the top of the pyramid]. That's what they never talk about. When you get up to the top there all the banks fuse together. So if one goes down another one picks up that business. The same people are still there [at the top] so the only thing that changes is the centralization of power.

RM: I didn't know until I read your recent newsletter that Bank of America is ultimately a Rothschild holding.

DI: Well, this is what they do you see; they create trusts and groups and different organizations, smoke and mirrors. This is how they hide the fact of where the power is. What the Rothschild's have done brilliantly throughout the later part of the Twentieth Century up to now is hide the extent of their holdings. You see back in the days of the time when they were the biggest, most famous name in banking and finance they could be seen to have the power that they had. But, it is much more effective if you can control events without being seen to control events. So what they have done is work to conceal the extent of their power while not just keeping it but expanding it.

RM: Expanding it, yeah.

DI: Again, the events of the last few days and weeks, with more and more centralization of power, and banks going under and bigger banks taking them over, that Rothschild power will be even more concentrated now. They do it by front directors and nominees and trusts. Own this trust and . . . eventually it gets to the Rothschild's. But it is so far back often from the bank

RM: It would be difficult for anyone to discern.

DI: Yeah. It takes an enormous amount of research by people just to find the true owners of one bank, you know, never mind the banking system.

RM: You wrote something in your book—this is your most recent book, David Icke's Guide to the Global Conspiracy, and I'm reading in the banking section here. This is a quote by Senator Thomas Hart Benton, who was a fierce opponent of the Bank of the United States, which was a predecessor to the Federal Reserve. His comment back then--so this would have been pre-1913, right?—was the government, itself, ceases to be independent, it ceases to be safe when the national currency is at the will of a company. The government can undertake no great enterprise, neither war nor peace, without the consent and cooperation of that company. It cannot count its revenues six months ahead without referring to the action of that company, its friendship or its enmity, its concurrence or opposition to see how far that company will permit money to be scarce or to be plentiful, how far it will let the money system go on regularly or throw it into disorder, how far it will suit their interest or policy. People are not safe when such a company has such power.

DI: In America that company is called the Federal Reserve.

RM: Exactly. So, I wanted to talk to you about the cozy relationship between the Federal Reserve and the U. S. Treasury.

DI: Well, it is just a swinging door. You see in recent times we've heard about a Federal Reserve bail-out of this company or that company as if it is a government bail-out. But, actually the Federal Reserve is a cartel of private banks; they are neither federal nor have any reserve. It is a total confidence trick, and if you look under government departments you won't find the Federal Reserve in the phone book. Look under private banks you will find the Federal Reserve, and the Federal Reserve is also being controlled by the Rothschild's.

They manipulated its creation through people like Paul Warburg, who was a subordinate of the Rothschild's. He was heavily, heavily involved in the creation of the Federal Reserve, a total scam. [He] manipulated Capitol Hill to bring it about, and America was never the same country after that. It wasn't meant to be. So, the Federal Reserve is a cartel of private banks, which controls the U. S. Treasury; so, the government is controlled by a cartel of private banks; the money supply is decided by private banks. When we have a situation where there is a lot of money in circulation we have a lot of economic activity and we have what we call an economic boom because there is lots of economic activity and lots of units of exchange changing hands because they are there to change hands. You have people with lots of jobs that they are doing well, you have companies with lost of orders and things are booming. What tends to happen in times of boom is people get into more debt because they get real confident. Oh, yeah, don't worry; we'll barrow; we'll have two holidays this year; we'll have a bigger house; we'll have a bigger car, all this stuff. It's going really well.

RM: America has bought into it to the max through the Clinton years until now.

DI: Yeah. Exactly, and when you look back, this has been played, this scam, so many times. I call it fishing line out-fishing line back. The line goes out when private banks issue lots of money into the economy, and this is called credit / loans. That is how money comes into circulation, through private banks, overwhelmingly, giving loans. And what are loans? They are credit; they are nothing; they are figures on a screen that don't exist except in theory. Then at a certain point when the boom has created mountains of debt for business and banks, as we have seen, and people in general, then they pull the fishing line in. And how they do that is they take money out of circulation. They bring about what is currently known as the Credit Crunch and things like that. What happens is we start to then move from a boom to a depression or a bust. People loose their jobs, they loose their houses. Companies that took out loans from banks here to get new plant machinery to meet the demand, now they have still got the loans to pay back, but the demand is gone, so they can't pay the loans back and companies start to fall. People loose their houses in vast numbers, etc. Who gets all that wealth that does exist? It's the banks who created a situation of doing that by putting out money that doesn't exist but for on a screen of credit. This is what economists call the Financial Cycle, as if it some kind of natural thing that unfolds. It is not; it is totally manipulated, and we are now moving from the point where the fish are in the net with all the debt, to when they are going to be trolled, and they are being trolled.

RM: But this is a more dangerous game this time, is it not, in that we are moving toward centralized banking, centralized . . . yes.

DI: Again, these coordinates—understanding these coordinates is so important because then you can start to see some clarity in the complexity, as I said. So in banking, if you want a world central bank, the world central bank is not going to be just introduced. I think it's a good idea; let's have a World Central Bank. We'll all have that. No. No. You need a reason for the World Central Bank to come in, and the reason is going to be global financial chaos.

So what we need is a World Central Bank to bring an end to the chaos. It is just a higher level of we must introduce 700 billion dollars to buy up the banks bad debts to solve the problem of the current banking crisis, which it won't, of course. It will exacerbate it, eventually. It is the same principle; the same thing keeps recurring because if it works, why change it, basically?

So, we are going to be pushed along this road of more and more financial problems until, eventually, the solution they have been working towards all this time, the World Central Bank, is introduced to "solve" it, bring a solution to it. Now, at the same time, going along another route towards another aspect of this structure, the World Army, we are going to be seeing more and more moves towards a global conflict, to say just as they have, or will, with the World Central Bank: We must have the World Central Bank to stop the problems of the global economy. It is now a globalized economy, you know, if Japan gets a cold then America sneezes. And all these bloody lies you get, stupid stuff. Therefore, we've got a global problem so we need a global solution . . . Ah! World Central Bank. That will solve it. This is how it works.

And in the same way, in terms of bringing about the World Army, they want conflicts, a massive conflict, a Third World War in effect, where they can then say, after it, we must stop this ever happening again. The only way we can stop this is to dismantle all national armies and bring about a World Army to insure that there will be no more conflicts of this kind. Now, if you read some of the writings of the Illuminati and some of their front men, people like Albert Pike, the infamous American Freemason and a major, major player within the secret society network of America, while he was alive. He talked about, in effect as we say in Britain, the point being reached when they will throw everything but the kitchen sink, as we say in Britain, at the people to hit them on so many levels to create fear, panic, bewilderment, chaos, and then they, as he [Pike] put it, would come forward . . .

RM: Magnanimously offer the solution. (laughing nervously)

DI: Yeah, and offer to save the people from their predicament. We are now at that point in the journey where that is now happening and it is going to continue to happen. We need to take a deep breath and reevaluate our whole outlook on life and ourselves to meet this challenge, because they are going to be hitting us on all different levels to get us to please save us! Oh my god, save us! One of them [the ways they are hitting us] is this war. They are looking for a conflict involving North America, Europe, Russia and China.

Interview With David Icke

I've been saying from way back now, fifteen years or so, that China is going to be brought forward as a major, major player in this whole scenario that is unfolding. And I'm not pulling that out of the ether; I have met people over the years who should know, who have told me the same story. And so now we are seeing China emerging as a massively powerful financial player, and also backing that up, a military player. Now, because everything connects to everything else, because it is an interconnected web, who I am now reading is the major holder of American debt? China.

RM: China. Yes.

DI: Where will Paulson and his crowd go to try to raise this money to give to their own banks? It is going to increase the indebtedness of America, and they are going to be passing it off again in even greater amounts to China, who are taking over America by stealth—and the wider world. I mean they are absolutely physically taking over Africa, the Chinese Government.

RM: Yes.

DI: This is where we are moving. Now, let's go back to Henry Paulson, this save-the-world-for-the-people Treasury Secretary. He is, of almost all world bankers of any level, the most connected and closest to China. He has made at least 100 trips to China discussing the whole financial, banking situation with the high and mighty there. That is not an insignificant coincidence. It's all moving in this direction.

We're going to see China more and more brought forward and eventually brought into some kind of conflict, which will then be the Third World War, maybe come out of the Middle East. Who knows? This will then justify the World Army and the World Government and this whole structure to stop it from ever happening again. And all it is is a higher level or version of the First World War and the Second World War. After the First World War power was in dramatically fewer hands than it was before, even fewer hands after the Second World War; the idea is to complete the job with the Third World War.

This is why a complete consciousness change is necessary in people to start seeing the world and themselves in a different way, because the only way that a few can control the many is if the many control each other or give their power away to the few. Now, all those things are happening.

As they said in the 60's, if they had a war and no one turned up, what would happen? There could be no war. You know Bush and people like him, and those that control him, they declare wars; they don't fight them.

They get the population to fight them; this is the whole thing. Now, if the population refused to there couldn't be a war. As Einstein said you cannot solve problems from the same level of consciousness that created them. Well, you can't become free with the level of consciousness that enslaved you. So, there has to be a shift in consciousness and if there is not then nothing can change.

The Islamic Agenda

THE RISE OF THE PRINCE OF PERSIA

Iran is a nation that figures prominently in the news these days. After the 9/11 terrorist attacks on America, President George Bush mentioned the nation of Iran in a speech and depicted it as being one of the notorious members of the now infamous "axis of evil" nations.

Still, most people in the West know very little about Iran, and the vast majority of American's are completely unaware of the history of the US relationship with Iran, and the fact that the region of Iran actually has had a long and significant role in world affairs.

While Persia has had ties deeply rooted in world history, the direct American-Iranian relationship only commenced in the late 1930's. Persia joined the allied forces against Germany in 1943, and thus the World War II Mid-east theatre provided the stage that began the rather brief history of the US-Iranian relationship.

It is a relationship that has also undergone a complete about face since the 1970's. Within the scope of this remarkable turn in geo-political affairs in the international relationship between Iran (Persia) and the United States are a host of highly significant factors relative to the prophesied signs of the times, and imminent world events in these Last Days.

Today Iranian President Ahmadinejad has renewed an increasing intense hostility towards the state of Israel and has assumed the mantle piece as the voice of Islam with Iran now becoming the dominant Islamic power in the Middle East after the demise of Saddam Hussein and the previous Baathist Iraqi government.

EZEKIEL'S ALIGNMENT OF THE MUSLIM NATIONS

Ezekiel prophesies that Iran (Persia) will be one of the leading Muslim nations that will side in a major attempt to invade and destroy Israel at a time when Israel is unsuspecting.

Interestingly enough during this attempted invasion Ezekiel mention that Sheba and Dedan will voice a diplomatic protest to the invasion. Sheba and Dedan are historical names which refer to the Arabian peninsula and many believe that despite its conservative Islamic rule of law that the Saudi Monarchy are dependant on the West to protect their oil interests because of the fear that the tide of Iranian fundamentalism which overthrew the Iranian Shah in 1979 could provide a threat to their own well being should the masses rise up against the special relationship that the Saudi King has with the so called "Zionist West".

The Islamic Agenda

THE COMING OF THE AL MADHI

According to the Shia and Sunni versions of the Islamic eschatology the Mahdi (مهدي Maḥdī, also Mehdi; "Guided One") is the prophesied redeemer of Islam who will appear on earth before the coming of the day of Judgement. The Madhi is believed to be a future muslim world leader who will not only rule over the Islamic world, but also the non Muslim world in the establishment of an Islamic order.

The Mahdi will be a descendant of Fatimah (one of Mohammed's wives) and will take his name as Mohammed bin Abdullah. The hadith indicates that the Madhi will lead an Islamic alliance with black banners from Khorasan and Central Asia. Kohrasan is known in modern day language as Iran

According to hadith, The Mahdi will be a great military, political and spiritual leader who will unite Islam under one Caliphate and conquer many countries. He will attack and defeat Israel. The war will result in the slaughtering of the Jews and the reclaiming of Jerusalem as the capital of Islam and the location of the Madhi's early rule of Sharia law. Their flags will be erected on the Temple Mount when they reach the Dome of the Rock.

In August 2009 Iran held a multi-day conference, bringing together politicians, mullahs, students – Shiite and Sunni alike – to plot what can be done on this earthly plane to hasten the coming of the anointed one, a messianic, endtimes personage known as the Mahdi.

For the past five years, the Iranian religious and political leaders have annually gathered together for two days in the city of Qom for what is called 'The International Conference of Mahdism Doctrine,' sponsored by the Bright Future Institute. The purpose of the Bright Future Institute is 'to introduce Imam Mahdi to the world' and 'to pave the ground for his reappearance' and 'help bring all of humanity to the knowledge of the true savior of mankind, Imam al-Mahdi.'

From the establishment of the Islamic Regime in 1979 to Ahmadinejad's rise to power in August 2005, Mahdism had been a religious doctrine and a tradition that had no political manifestation. The political system operated independently of this messianic belief and of the anticipation of the return of the Mahdi. It was only with Ahmadinejad's presidency that this religious doctrine has become a political philosophy and taken a central place in politics.

Book Review: Last of the Giants

Despite being published over a decade ago this publication still sets a hallmark for an appraisal of Islam and its surge on a worldwide basis.

War in the Persian Gulf, the collapse of Communism and the yoke released on millions of muslims living in the former Soviet republics and the rise of Islamic fundamentalis, Whilst these headlines are viewed by many as political events, The Last of the Giants suggest there is more here than meets the eye.

George Otis Jr. leads the reader deep into the heart of modern day Islam (within the context of the 1990's) This is a meticulously well documented account of the three forces that are moving in the earth today: Materialism, Hinduism and Islam and how powerful forces are currently preparing for a last stand against the advancing Church.

It is an important read not only to place the church today in a timeline of the book of Revelation, but to expose Western Christianity to the reality of the spirit realm and the nature of aggressive Islam.

The book is not about demonizing Muslims. It is about equipping the praying church how to wage informed intercession. Although some of the details are dated, such as the fall of communism, that does not negate the insight relayed through the authors study. The first nine chapters are devoted to the author's in-depth research both historical and contemporary on Islam as a worldwide movement. The last two chapters tie together the belief that we are not waging war against flesh and blood but powers and principalities. Therefore, the author encourages the reader to respond to his message through prayer or missions to this unreached people group.

The Last of the Giants combines two rare qualities for books considering biblical prophecies and middle east events: use of a reasoned scholarship and use of a subjunctive mood.

Otis brings plausibility to the spiritual mapping movement by painting spiritual dynamics with broad strokes that cover the entire 10/40 window. This carefully documented journey which makes revealing stops in Babylon Iraq, Mecca, Moscow and Jerusalem.

“Well documented, well-written and truly fascinating.....One of the first efforts to explore the world of spiritual darkness in a global context.....A Major and valuable contribution to an extremely important subject”

COPENHAGEN: WORLD GOVERNMENT SETBACK OR PART OF THE PLAN

Lord Christopher Monckton. The former adviser to Margaret Thatcher gave an address during the Minnesota Freemarket Institute Conference at Bethel University in St. Paul, Minnesota, in early November 2009. For the first time, the public heard about the 181 pages, dated Sept. 15, that comprised the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change—a rough draft of what could be signed during the December Copenhagen global climate event.

Lord Monckton himself only became aware of the extraordinary powers to be vested in this new world government when a friend found an obscure U.N. Web site and searched through several layers of hyperlinks before discovering a document labelled as a "Note by the Secretariat." Here are some excerpts of Lord Monckton's closing speech, as transcribed by Fighting' Words Blog, from the audio recording of the conference:

"At [the 2009 United Nations Climate Change Conference in] Copenhagen, this December, weeks away, a treaty will be signed. Your president will sign it. Most of the third world countries will sign it, because they think they're going to get money out of it. Most of the left-wing regime from the European Union will rubber stamp it. Virtually nobody won't sign it.

I read that treaty. And what it says is this, that a world government is going to be created. The word "government" actually appears as the first of three purposes of the new entity. The second purpose is the transfer of wealth from the countries of the West to third world countries, in satisfaction of what is called, coyly, "climate debt" – because we've been burning CO2 and they haven't. We've been screwing up the climate and they haven't. And the third purpose of this new entity, this government, is enforcement.

How many of you think that the word "election" or "democracy" or "vote" or "ballot" occurs anywhere in the 200 pages of that treaty? Quite right, it doesn't appear once. So, at last, the communists who piled out of the Berlin Wall and into the environmental movement, who took over Greenpeace so that my friends who funded it left within a year, because [the communists] captured it – Now the apotheosis as at hand. They are about to impose a communist world government on the world. You have a president who has very strong sympathies with that point of view. He's going to sign it. He'll sign anything. He's a Nobel Peace Prize [winner]; of course he'll sign it."

However contrary to Lord Monckton's assertion, no treaty was signed at Copenhagen yet some fundamental new realities about global power shifts in the world, and the role of Obama's America in the new order emerged from the event. In a new upcoming report we will devote a significant portion to unravelling the events of Copenhagen and why a Global Treaty was deferred against the expectations of Lord Monckton.

Holy War is one of the most controversial reports to be released regarding Islam and the New World Order. The report seriously challenges a growing popular view of a Muslim Antichrist and provides over 160 Pages of evidence to address Islam's role in the New World Order puzzle. It covers a critical debate around:

Why Did Russia invade Georgia in 2008 and what relevance does this have to the Middle East peace process?

Is there significant evidence of a covert operation being planned to trigger World War III by inflaming the Muslim world by putting their 3rd holiest building, the Dome of the Rock in Jerusalem at risk?

Are you aware of why Islam is totally incompatible with the New World Order Agenda and why Islamic Fundamentalism constantly voices that there must be ongoing Jihad against the Zionist West?

Why is the Rebuilding of Solomon's Temple on the Temple Mount in Jerusalem so important for the New World Order Global Elite, the Vatican and the state of Israel?

Is there any significance in the restoration and rebuilding of the ancient city of Babylon in Iraq and the growing influence of the Mediterranean Union?

What is the evidence that the Antichrist will arise out of the Black Nobility of Europe and not from Islam and how is this linked to the rise of the Mediterranean Union?

Is the war of Ezekiel 38 actually Armageddon or a separate isolated war that will precede Armageddon?

What is the prophetic relevance of the Muslim belief in the coming of Al Madhi and Al Dajjal?
