Global Watch Weekly Report

Welcome to the Global Watch Weekly Report

I cannot believe 12 months have gone by so quickly since the 2013 Bilderberg meeting which took place in Watford England. Last year we also devoted a whole edition of the Global Watch Weekly as a tribute to Bilderberg researcher, Jim Tucker who died after years of research in exposing this elite group.

The last week has witnessed the 2014 Bilderberg meeting which took place in Copenhagen Denmark. An interesting choice considering that Copenhagen was also home for the global summit on climate change which took place back in 2009.

Whilst the last decade has seen an attempt by the media to bring secret groups into the limelight as a method to dilute the “secret” and “sinister” traits as “conspiracy rambling the truth still remains that the Bilderberg group was born through royal houses of Europe seeking to create vehicles by which they could influence continents and nations.

DAILY MIRROR, Wednesday, February 13, 1980 PAGE 9

DAY TWO of a dossier on the quiet men who control our destiny

NEWS INQUIRY

THE Daily Mirror yesterday revealed the power of the Trilateral Commission as a group of global manipulators. The Trilateral Commission—known as the Kingmakers—stands second to none in power, prestige and influence. But not far behind comes the Bilderberg Group, a circle of the elite and wealthy whose hush-hush meetings determine how the Western nations should run their affairs.

SECRET MEETINGS TO SHAPE THE WORLD

by ROBERT ERINGER
An American journalist who has spent four years investigating the all-powerful groups that aim to influence our lives.

EVERY year 120 of the world's most powerful and influential men come together, lock themselves away for three days and decide what policies the democratic nations of the West should follow.

They are members of the Bilderberg Group and their meetings are always kept a closely guarded secret.

But I can reveal that this year they will meet in the spa city of Aachen, just 45 miles from the German capital, Bonn, from April 18-20 inclusive.

I can also reveal that former German President Walter Scheel has been invited to replace the ageing Lord Home as chairman of Bilderberg. Scheel has accepted.

Top of the Aachen agenda will be world politics and economics following the Russian invasion of Afghanistan.

Bilderbergers represent the elite and wealthy establishment of every Western nation. They include bankers, politicians, diplomats and leaders of the giant multi-national corporations.

Among British politicians who have attended their meetings are Edward Heath, Harold Wilson, James Callaghan, Denis Healey, Margaret Thatcher and Enoch Powell.

Other influential members of the British Establishment include Lord Roli, of merchant bankers S. G. Warburg, Sir Reay Geddes, chairman of Dunlop, John Harvey-Jones of ICI, and Sir David Steel, chairman of British Petroleum.

Everything about the group is shrouded in mystery.

Their meetings, which take place at a different location each year, go unannounced, their debates unreported, their decisions unknown.

Idea and suggestions made at Bilderberg.

C. Gordon Tether, the distinguished former columnist of the Financial Times, wrote: “If the Bilderberg Group is not a conspiracy of some sort it is conducted in such a way as to give a remarkably good imitation of Walter Bedell Smith, then director of the CIA.

One of the most intriguing aspects of the Bilderberg group is its steering committee's amazing ability to invite politicians to join the group who later reach the pinnacles of power in their respective countries.

TOP: Margaret Thatcher and David Rockefeller meet in London.

In 1954 Prince Bernhard the grandfather of King Willem-Alexander of the Netherland was a co-founder of the international Bilderberg Group, which has met annually since then to discuss corporate globalization and other issues concerning Europe and North America. He was forced to step down from both groups after being involved in the Lockheed Bribery Scandal. Prince Bernhard (now deceased) claimed descent from the House of David through the Merovingian dynasty, a claim that was acknowledged to be valid by the Carolingian dynasty that supplanted them, by other monarchs and by the Roman Church of that time.

Its just really interesting how this word “Merovingian” always seems to be popping up time and time again and that is linked to the birth of one of the most powerful elite groups today.

In this weeks edition of the Global Watch Weekly we take a look at key agenda items that were discussed as well as take a look back at one of the most incredible platforms for a Bilderberg researcher to share his concerns about the influence of this group.

BILDERBERGER ALERT

BILDERBERG 2014: COPENHAGEN

The 62nd Bilderberg meeting took place this last week from 29 May until 1 June 2014 in Copenhagen, Denmark. A total of around 140 participants from 22 countries confirmed their attendance. As ever, a diverse group of political leaders and experts from industry, finance, academia and the media were invited.

The key topics for discussion this year included:

- Is the economic recovery sustainable?
- Who will pay for the demographics?
- Does privacy exist?
- How special is the relationship in intelligence sharing?
- Big shifts in technology and jobs
- The future of democracy and the middle class trap
- China's political and economic outlook
- The new architecture of the Middle East
- Ukraine
- What next for Europe?
- Current events

Inside sources claim that the elite conference, centred around how to derail a global political awakening that threatens to hinder Bilderberg's long standing agenda to centralize power into a one world political federation, a goal set to be advanced with the passage of the Transatlantic

Trade and Investment Partnership (TTIP), which was undoubtedly a central topic of discussion at this year's meeting.

The TTIP represents an integral component of Bilderberg's attempt to rescue the unipolar world by creating a "world company," initially a free trade area, which would connect the United States with Europe. Just as the European Union started as a mere free trade area and was eventually transformed into a political federation which controls upwards of 50 per cent of its member states' laws and regulations with total contempt for national sovereignty and democracy, TTIP is designed to accomplish the same goal, only on a bigger scale.

The deal is being spearheaded by Obama's U.S. Trade Representative Michael Froman, a Wall Street insider and a CFR member, Bilderberg's sister organization. Froman is simultaneously helping to build another block of this global government, the Trans-Pacific Partnership, which is a similar project involving Asian countries.

Given that Bilderberg schemed to create the Euro single currency as far back as 1955 (Bilderberg chairman Étienne Davignon bragged about how the Euro single currency was a brainchild of the Bilderberg in 2009 interview), the results of the European elections are sure to have stirred outright alarm amongst Bilderberg globalists who are aghast that their planned EU superstate is being eroded as a result of a populist resistance mainly centered around animosity towards uncontrolled immigration policies.

BILDERBERGER ALERT

In Denmark itself, the buzz is centered around Morten Messerschmidt and the Danish People's party, which won 27% of the vote in the Euro elections and doubled its number of MEPs. Although some are wary of Messerschmidt's far right inclinations, his success reflects a general resentment not only in Denmark but across Europe towards immigration and the welfare state, concerns that the EU has only exasperated.

Meanwhile in France, Marine Le Pen is carving out a role as the face of a conservative movement that threatens "to break up one united Europe," with her European election win being described as an "earthquake" that has rattled the political heart of Europe.

Voters in the United Kingdom also delivered a thumping rejection of the EU and in turn Bilderberg with the success of Nigel Farage and UKIP, a Euroskeptic triumph some are labeling the "most extraordinary" election result for 100 years.

As well as TTIP and the fallout from the European election disaster, Bilderberg tackled a number of other key issues, most of which revolved around the continued effort to centralize economic power under several different guises, including a carbon tax paid directly to the United Nations, with the financial hit being taken by individuals as big companies are granted special "waivers" that will allow them to continue to pollute.

The rumbling crisis in Ukraine and the relationship between Russia and NATO was also a focal point of Bilderberg 2014. Globalists now consider Vladimir Putin to have ostracized Russia from the new world order because he dared to "challenge the international system," as John Kerry put it.

Bilderberg 2014 would have likely discussed fears that Putin is intent on constructing an alternative world order based around the BRICS countries, a "multi-polar" system that would devastate the dollar as the world reserve currency and also heavily dilute the current US-EU-NATO power axis.

BILDERBERGS LONG HISTORY

The roots of Bilderberg go back centuries, when international moneychangers would secretly manipulate the economy to enrich themselves and enslave ordinary people.

The Rothchilds of Britain and Europe have met secretly with other financiers for centuries, as did the Rockefellers of America.

In the beginning, the Rothchilds were "Red Shields" because of the ornament on their door and the Rockefellers of Germany were "Rye Fields" because of their crops.

One of the most significant such meetings took place in the spring of 1908, led by Sen. Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller's given name. It was held on Jekyll Island off the Georgia coast.

The late B.C Forbes, editor of Forbes magazine, reported what transpired at this meeting of the world's wealthy. With Aldrich were Henry Davidson, of J.P. Morgan and Co.' Frank Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank; Paul Warburg, of Kuhn Loeb and Co., and A. Piatt Andrew, assistant secretary of the treasury.

They emerged from this secret meeting with a plan for "a scientific currency system for the United States." They had the power to pressure Congress into establishing the Federal Reserve Board, a private group of bankers who meet to shape the money supply.

But in 1954, the international financiers decided that the world had become so small and their interests intersected so often, that they must have regular, annual meetings. That year they met at the Bilderberg Hotel in Holland, and took the name "Bilderberg" for themselves.

They have met behind sealed-off walls and armed guards at plush resorts ever since. Secrecy prevailed briefly, until the late journalist, Westbrook Peglet, exposed Bilderberg in 1957. However, Chatham House rules have remained in effect, whereby meetings are held privately and attendees are prohibited from talking on the record about what transpired.

As with each meeting, there is the official list of participants, and then there are those participants who attend, but whose names are not listed in any official release.

DANIEL ESTULIN'S PRESENTATION TO THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT

Daniel Estulin (born in Vilnius, Lithuania) is an author, public speaker, conspiracy theorist whose main interest is the Bilderberg Group, an annual invitation-only conference of the elites in the fields of business, finance, media, military and politics. He is known for his extensive works on this group having written a book called "The True Story of the Bilderberg Group" as well as for his live seminars throughout the world. In an interview, Estulin describes his background, which led him to his profession:

"I'm a Russian expatriate who was kicked out of the Soviet Union in 1980. My father was a dissident who fought for freedom of speech who was jailed, tortured by the KGB. Suffered two political deaths. When these people got tired of us they threw us out. We moved to Canada and 12 years ago I came to Spain. My grandfather was a colonel in the KGB and the counter-intelligence in the 1950s, so I am privileged somewhat to get a lot of the information from secret service which are our best sources of information. Not only the KGB people but the MI6 people, the CIA because most of the people who work for the secret service as you probably know are patriots and they love their country and they're doing it for the good of the nation and they're the first ones absolutely terrified of the plans of the Bilderbergers".

Estulin wrote The True Story of the Bilderberg Group (original title: La Verdadera Historia Del Club Bilderberg), a report on the nature and meetings of the world's most powerful people. According to Estulin's book, the secretive Bilderbergers have been making major important political, economical and social decisions since their first gathering in 1954.

Estulin published a second book, Los secretos del club Bilderberg, released in September 2006. The English version, The Secrets of the Bilderberg Club, was released in the US on September 22, 2007.

In December 2007, Estulin appeared on the Alex Jones Show, and claimed that he had "received information from sources inside the U.S. intelligence community which suggests that people from the highest levels of the U.S. government are considering an assassination attempt against Congressman Ron Paul because they are threatened by his burgeoning popularity" as a presidential candidate. Estulin also worked with the now deceased American journalist Big Jim Tucker who has a similar interest in the activities of the Bilderberg Group.

However one of his most remarkable achievements came on on June 1st 2010 where Estulin made an unprecedented speech about the Bilderbergs before the European Parliament at its headquarters in Brussels. Estulin, was invited to speak at the European Parliament by Mario Borghezio, the most senior Member of European Parliament from Italy. The European Parliament is one of the most powerful legislatures in the world. Estulin's talk is equivalent to addressing a joint session of Congress. In fact, never before has Bilderberg as a subject seen the light of day in front of such a highly respectable audience - elected senators of European nations. The full details of this speech are as follows.

Ladies and gentlemen,

We are now in a position to change history. I finally believe that mankind has a future. A once demoralised population with no moral purpose is coming out of their prolonged slumber. In this general awakening, people are beginning to ask the right questions. It's no longer, "what will I get out of it?" but rather "What's right?" It's an international phenomenon of response and reaction to an overly felt perception that the entire world is doomed to catastrophe, unless we the people do something about it.

I have written a book on the subject of the Bilderberg Group. This book, in a way, has become the catalyst for a movement around the world. Now, we don't have a lot of time, so I would like to explain to you what Bilderberg is and why it must be stopped.

In the world of international finance, there are those who steer the events and those who react to the events. While the latter are better known, greater in numbers, and seemingly more powerful, the true power rests with the former. At the centre of the global financial system are the financial oligarchy today represented by the Bilderberg group.

Bilderberg organization is dynamic, in that it changes with the times, absorbs and crates new parts while excreting the remains of the decaying parts. Members come and go, but the system itself has not changed. It is a self-perpetuating system, a virtual spider web of interlocked financial, political, economic and industry interests.

Now, Bilderberg isn't a secret society. It is not an evil, all-seeing eye. There is no conspiracy even though a lot of people with their infantile fantasies see it as such. No group of people, and I don't care how powerful they are, sit around the table in dark room, holding hands, staring at a crystal ball, planning the world's future.

It's a meeting of people who represent a certain ideology.

Not One World Government or New World Order as too many people mistakenly believe. Rather, the ideology is of a ONE WORLD COMPANY LIMITED. Back in 1968, at a Bilderberg meeting in Canada, George Ball, the then Under-secretary for Economic Affairs with JFK and Johnson said: "Where does one find a legitimate base for the power of corporate management to make decisions that can profoundly affect the economic life of nations to whose governments they have only limited responsibility?"

The idea behind each and every Bilderberg meeting is to create what they themselves call THE ARISTOCRACY OF PURPOSE between European and North American elites on the best way to manage the planet. In other words, the creation of a global network of giant cartels, more powerful than any nation on Earth, destined to control the necessities of life of the rest of humanity, obviously from their vantage point, for our own good and in our benefit – THE GREAT UNWASHED AS THEY CALL US.

Now, the reason people don't believe in Bilderberg and other organisations working together exercising such control on the world stage is that theirs is a Cartesian fantasy world, in which the isolated intentions of some individuals, NOT the dynamics of social processes shape the course of history as the movement of evolving ideas and themes over successive generations and even centuries.

Bilderberg is a medium of bringing together financial institutions which are the world's most powerful and most predatory financial interests. And at this time, it is that combination which is the worst enemy of humanity.

We can all congratulate ourselves in that today, Bilderberg has become the mainstay of corporate media. Not because corporate media has suddenly remembered their responsibility to us, but because we the people, have forced them into this uncomfortable position by becoming very aware that Presidents and Prime Ministers and your little shrinking Queens and Kings are puppets of powerful forces working from behind the scenes.

Something has happened to us, the people in the midst of this general economic collapse. People at large are gripped by something they don't always understand. But, it compels them to act in a certain way, in their own interest. That's what they are doing in Greece. That's what they are doing in Spain, in the United States. It's called the anthropic principle. It's like a tidal movement came upon us and washed our fears away. As people realise that their existence is threatened, they have lost their fear, and Bilderberg and others sense it.

Perhaps that's why at a recent Council on Foreign Relations speech in Montreal, Zbigniew Brzezinski, one of the founders of the TC, warned that a "global political awakening," in combination with infighting amongst the elite, was threatening to derail the move towards a one world government.

You see people at this table come from very different ideological and political backgrounds. What unites us, however, is that we are all patriots. And those who oppose us, those who work for secret societies, who have sold their nations out for a pound of flesh, are traitors. Not only traitors of their people and nations, but of humanity as a whole.

Now, the subject of this Press Conference is Bilderberg: Towards One World Company Ltd.

About six and a half centuries ago, the economy of Europe had collapsed into what is known as Europe's "New Dark Age," the greatest economic and demographic collapse of Europe since the collapse of the Roman Empire. Then, in the middle of the 14C, much of the power of the oligarchy abruptly disintegrated. This disintegration erupted as the sudden, chain-reaction collapse of the worst financial bubble of debt speculation in history, until now, that is, when the banking houses of Bardi and Peruzzi went under. This disintegration and collapse of the Lombard debt bubble caused a collapse in the power among the oligarchical families.

What does it have to do with Bilderberg?

Modern history superseded medieval history at that moment that the institutions which singularly distinguish modern from medieval history were put into place. That occurred back in 1439 at the Council of Florence. What were those new institutions?

- The conception of the modern nation state republics under the government of natural law.
- The central role of the fostering of scientific and technological progress as the mandate given to the republic.

These two ideals represent a crucial argument: their existence as institution, in any part of Europe, changed everything in all of Europe because these institutional changes increased the rate of development of per-capita and per-square kilometre of mankind over nature. So, no nation could afford not to progress, not to develop for the fear of being left hopelessly behind.

The first success occurred under France's Louis XI, who doubled the per-capita income of France, and defeated all of France's enemies. Louis XI success sparked a chain reaction of efforts to establish a nation-state on this model in Henry VII's England and elsewhere.

Another key idea to come out of Council of Florence which was later implemented in the United States is a universal principle of GENERAL WELFARE, on which all modern civilised society is based.

Now, welfare does not mean a useless bum sitting on the couch, eating a pizza, slobbering all over himself, watching television, while he is waiting for an unemployment check to arrive.

It is a question of immortality. What's the intention of the existence of man, and government? It's to provide for the welfare, of future generations of mankind. To assure our survival as the species. The principle of the General Welfare, as expressed in summation in the preamble of the Federal Constitution of the United States, is the fundamental law.

So, how is it related to today? These people want an Empire. That's what globalization is. And too many people believe that in order to have an Empire, you need money. You have all heard of the phrase – THE MONEY ELITE. But money, is not a determinant of wealth and the economy. Money does not make the world go around. Money has no intrinsic value.

Human mind affects the development of the planet. This is how mankind is measured. This is the true meaning of IMMORTALITY. What separates us from animals is our ability to discover universal physical principles. It allows us to innovate, which subsequently improves the lives of people by increasing the power of man over nature.

You see, they are destroying the world economy on purpose. This isn't the first time either. This was done in the 14th century New Dark Age: 30% of the population wiped out.

Empire=dumb people down. They want to destroy the creative powers of reason.

0 growth, 0 progress. Club of Rome (Limits to Growth) 1973

PROJECT 1980S CFR, promoting controlled disintegration of the world economy.

BILDERBERG 1995. Demand destruction. How? By destroying the world economy on purpose.

GREAT DEPRESSION – TRANSFER OF WEALTH. The Great Depression was not an event that wiped out U.S. capitalists. It was an event that made the rich even richer by transferring the wealth of the people into the hands of the already wealthy. That's how Bank of America made their billions through real estate foreclosures from 1929-37. Don't believe for a minute that the richest of the rich will be hurt by the coming collapse. The only ones hurt will be you and me.

Look at Greece. What they are trying to do is blow up the system by, instead of allowing Greece to reorganise its money system, they are imposing that Greece be used, that the Greek debt be bailed out by Europe. But, that debt is worthless. It's garbage, it's monopoly money. So, asking Europe, which is going through its own financial meltdown, to absorb an unpayable debt, which the Greeks, by the way, can NEVER repay, means you are going to FOR SURE, destroy Europe. And, it is being done on purpose, because nobody, not even Barroso, who with all due respect to him is absolutely intellectually challenged or Trichet are that stupid.

BILDERBERGER ALERT

Let's get rid of the bureaucracy in Brussels. Let's fire them all. They are bums. They are useless. These people have never done anything useful in their lives. Get rid of Barroso. He failed history in high school. Get rid of the "wet rag," Van Rompuy not because he is useless but because he is evil and very dangerous. It's not the first time that an unloved, short, evil little man has gnawed his way into the bowels of power.

You see, it is a question of leadership and a question of immortality. All of the leaders of society, especially in times of crisis, are leaders because they measure up to some approximation of that standard. People such as Barroso, Van Rompuy, EU President Jean Claude Juncker, Dominique Strauss-Kahn, the managing director of the IMF can hardly be considered leaders.

In fact, they can hardly be considered humans, from the perspective of human representing A GREATER GOOD OF HUMANITY.

Now, what I am talking about is not a scientific problem or economic question, but rather a morality question. A question of immortality. Do we as nation states, as people of the Planet believe in the future of mankind? And what kind of future will we have 100 or 200 years in the future. What about 10,000 years from now? Do we have a right to dream? If we have a sense of purpose for being here, then the bad guys can't win.

For example, we have been told that euro must be saved. That euro's failure will bring down the European Union. That's a lie. Instead of a weak, dysfunctional European monetary union, we go back to being independent nation state republics – Europe of the Fatherlands.

Cultural diversity is not only humanity's hallmark of progress, but an insurance policy against extinction as a species. Once born, a nation state concept never dies; it only waits for courageous and sane human beings to come to its defence, to perfect the concept. So therefore, we should be a fraternity of nations, of sovereign nations—united by a common purpose for humanity. Until we can bring mankind into the Age of Reason, history will be shaped in actuality, not by the wills of masses of humanity, but by the mere handfuls who, for purposes of good or evil, steer the fate of mankind generally as herds of cows are steered to and from the pasture—and, occasionally, also to the slaughter-house.
